

The point of departure are two principles: 1) the light penetrating material 2) obstacles (reflection, refraction of ray). I lay obstacles to the light which can split into smaller pieces. We may regulate the fragmented light with moving obstacles. Everyone can create their own atmosphere in the space.

To take the items and dishes that are my part, that I like and envelop myself into them. To let them warm me, let them protect me. An advertisement as an original consumerism product. Advertisement which sells itself. Advertisement for advertisement. To wrap myself with food and to be eaten, undressed, consumed. To cast myself adrift. To sell myself.
